Furnaces Continue To Cool

Negotiation Teams Show No Indication Of Progress Toward Staving Off Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Fires blinked out in the nation's steel furnaces today as negotiators battled against a strike deadline of midnight tomorrow.

President David J. McDonald of the United Steelworkers of America awaited industry's answer to his suggestion that top company officials join the deadlocked talks to avert a strike of 650,000 steelworkers.

As gradual cooling-off operations set in to prevent damage to the giant steel furnaces, Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell announced that the government had no immediate plan of invoking the Taft-Hartley Act to prevent a shutdown.

It is estimated that the cooling-off process, which takes about three days, plus an even longer time for rekindling the fires if a sudden settlement is reached, will cost the industry 500 tons of steel production valued at $5 million dollars.

The union also pressed its strike plans, choosing picket line captains in various plants and scheduling meetings of two top policy-making groups.

The union's 32-member Executive Board meets today to consider the situation.

The Wage Policy Committee, with 170 rank-and-file members, meets three hours later to hear McDonald report on the status of the bargaining. It has the power to approve or reject any agreement reached by negotiators.

McDonald's invitation to the presidents of the 12 major companies to join the talks came in reply to a television address last night by Adm. Ben Moreell, chairman of the Jones and Laughlin Corp.

Even with time running out and the fires going down, "reasonable men can always settle honest differences," said Moreell, speaking in behalf of the industry.

Moreell denied a union charge that the companies were conspiring to force a lockout in face of the union's traditional "no contract, no work" policy.

"That charge is not true," he said. "The steel companies of America exist to produce steel—not to lie idle."

McDonald said it was the companies that were "shutting their property down—no steelworkers out."

William M. Chambers Named to Board Office of Lions Club

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—William M. Chambers, Sheridan, Mo., today was named vice chairman of the board of governors of Lions International for 1956-57.

Chambers, whose term as governor of district 26-F of Missouri ended today, was selected on the basis of his record made in his district the past year. The new board chairman is Frank Buckley, Diery, N. H.

Enthusiasm was shown among delegates to the international convention when the Missourians announced Al J. Ruch of Clayton, Mo., former international director, would be a candidate for third vice president of the Lions. Ruch was endorsed at the recent state convention held in Kansas City. The office eventually leads to the presidency of Lions International.

More than 400 Missouri Lions and their families are here for the convention with St. Louis having the largest delegation.

Wendell Ford Elected National Jaycee Head

KANSAS CITY, (AP)—A 31-year-old Owensboro, Kentucky insurance man, Wendell H. Ford, was elected president of the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce last night.

Ford's election came on the 10th ballot at the concluding general session of the Jaycees' 36th meeting.

On the ninth ballot Michael F. Maloney of Fayetteville, Ark., led with 1,434 votes, followed by Ford with 1,372 and Robert E. Cook of Springfield, Ill., with 228.

Cook's backers began to switch to Maloney on the 10th ballot. Then Cook announced he was withdrawing from the race and Illinois cast its 159 votes for Ford. This started a landslide of vote changing and the final tabulation showed the Kentuckian a unanimous winner.

Ford succeeds Hugh F. McKenna, of Omaha, Neb., in the $15,000 a year post. While he holds office he will live in the Jaycee White House at Tulsa, Okla., the organization's national headquarters.

Polish Revolt Is Put Down; 38 Are Killed

Diplomats Speculate On Effect on Reds' Policy of Easing Up

BERLIN (AP)—A bitter workers' uprising in the major Polish city of Poznan took 38 lives and left 270 wounded, Warsaw's Communist government announced today.

The revolt has been crushed and today the industrial city was reported back to normal.

In the West, diplomats speculated what the effect would be on the Kremlin leaders' campaign to downgrade Stalin and ease the steel glove grip on the Soviet's satellite subjects.

The trouble exploded with a fury which recalled the uprising of East Germans of June 17, 1953, and the pro-Stalin student demonstrations in Tiflis this year when up to 100 persons were reported killed.

Western businessmen in Poznan to attend a big trade fair in the industrial city of 300,000 were amazed eyewitnesses to the violent outbreak that began at 7 a.m. and evidently continued all day yesterday.

Solid lines of marchers 20 abreast waving banners demanding "bread" swarmed through the streets, captured and burned secret police headquarters, liberated prisoners, attacked Communist party headquarters, destroyed the jamming station that interferes with Western broadcasts. They raised a white flag over City Hall.

The businessmen told of tanks rolling through the streets, of bullet blasts at the milling workers, of jet fighters winging overhead and of a tight curfew clamped on the city by Polish authorities.

In some instances, it was reported, troops and police failed to take action against the demonstrators and even gave up their arms to them. Some of the marchers, armed, returned the fire of troops. They succeeded at one time in capturing some of the tanks.

There were persistent rumors of other uprisings in the cities of Szczecin (Stettin), Gdansk, Gdynia, Allenstein (Olsztyn), Katowice and Lodz, but Warsaw radio mentioned only the events at Poznan.

Willard Barber, counselor of the American Embassy in Warsaw, said as far as he knew riots had occurred only in Poznan.

He reported that three or four American businessmen were known to have been in Poznan during the riots. He could not identify them, but believed they have left the city safely.

At least 30,000 persons were reported in the marching, milling crowds which started the demonstration by upsetting cars.

Group Endorses Smith For Federal Judge

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Judiciary Committee today unanimously endorsed R. Jasper Smith of Springfield, Mo., for appointment as a federal district judge for Western Missouri.

The 48-year-old lawyer and former Missouri state senator will succeed Charles E. Whittaker, who has been promoted to the Eighth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Eisenhower Signs Bill For Highways

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today signed the $3-billion-dollar highway construction bill, setting in motion the government's biggest peacetime spending program.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty in announcing the signing said the President "was highly pleased."

The funds provided by the bill are designed to give the nation a 41,000-mile system of super-highways linking every state with fully modern, controlled access roads, mostly of four lanes or more.

But well before the new highways are built, motorists will feel the effect of new taxes to help pay for them. These take effect Sunday. The biggest money raiser is a one cent boost in the federal gasoline tax to three cents a gallon.

It probably will be the summer of 1958 before any appreciable mileage of the new highways is completed.

Eisenhower asked Congress last year for a roadbuilding program of about the magnitude contained in the bill. But he proposed that much of it be financed by bond issues. Democrats took the lead in killing this feature, and substituting pay-as-you-ride taxes.

The bill provides greatly increased allocations for all four federal aid road systems, but the big feature is the 41,000-mile interstate system.

This coast-to-coast, border-to-border network will connect practically every city in the country of 50,000 or more with divided highways of up to eight lanes in the most crowded sections.

Kansan Hurt In Crash East Of Otterville

Critically Injured As Auto Overturns Late Thursday

Alfred Hart, 28, Leavenworth, Kan., is in critical condition at Bothwell Hospital from injuries received in a single car accident about 4:20 Thursday afternoon about two miles east of Otterville on the "slough" hill and curve.

Hart was a passenger in a car driven by Albert Overfelt, 25, also of Leavenworth, who is being held in the Cooper County jail at Boonville on a charge of careless and imprudent driving.

Both were riding in Overfelt's 1952 Kaiser sedan headed west at the time of the accident. Upon entering the curve, Overfelt, lost control of the car, struck the north shoulder of Highway 50 and tumbled over an eight foot embankment, turning over one and one-half times. The car landed on its top after rolling over. Hart was thrown from the car and landed about 25 feet from it.

The Ewing ambulance went to the scene of the accident and rushed Hart to the Bothwell Hospital where he was treated by Dr. Carl Siegel. According to reports, Hart is in a critical condition with several ribs broken and multiple bruises.

Overfelt was arrested by Trooper Harold Priess, California, Mo., on a charge of careless and imprudent driving. He is being held in the Cooper County jail at Boonville.

Both men are painters and had been on a job painting a bridge at Eureka. They were enroute to Leavenworth for the weekend.

Overfelt received cuts on the forehead and on the right ankle, and bruises about the body.

The car was completely demolished.

Trooper Priess investigated the accident at the scene.

Missouri Girls' State Delegates Take Over State Government

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Missouri's state government fell into the hands of the feminists today as 408 Girls State delegates swarmed into the Capitol.

The annual invasion, bringing youth and laughter to the stately marble corridors, was headed by the Girls State governor, 16-year-old Jane Luenstroth of Normandy. She got a chance to sit at the real governor's massive desk while other elected officials of Girls' State visited their real life counterparts.

Girls State representatives and senators held mock legislative sessions while members of the Girls' State Supreme Court got a look at the state's judicial chambers.

Wilson Says Ike Has Not Dictated Details of Budget

Secretary of Defense Answers Questions by Fowler Hamilton, Senate Subcommittee's Counsel

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson testified today that President Eisenhower has never dictated specific ceilings or cuts in military spending.

"The President never told me 'You've got to cut your military budget so much,' never in 3½ years," Wilson said.

The defense secretary was before a special Senate subcommittee inquiring into relative U. S.-Russian air power. Demands in Congress for increased funds for the Air Force have received stimulus from the hearings by this group under the chairmanship of Sen. Symington (D-Mo.), one-time secretary of the Air Force in the Truman administration.

Wilson's assertion that Eisenhower never fixed a ceiling on the military budget capped a series of questions from Fowler Hamilton, committee counsel, about memoranda and letters from the Budget Bureau, a White House agency, to the Defense Department.

The general import of Hamilton's line of inquiry was whether the size of military budgets was determined chiefly by national security considerations or was greatly affected by administration fiscal policies.

In getting into it, Hamilton introduced a letter from Joseph M. Dodge, budget director, to Wilson in the early days of the Eisenhower administration.

The letter said the first task was to review the fiscal 1954 budget—prepared by the previous Democratic administration.

Among other documents introduced was a memorandum to the secretary of air, signed by the Defense Department's comptroller, W. J. McNeil, and dated about a month after the Dodge letter.

This memo said that on the basis of preliminary review there appeared possibility for holding down money outlays. Then the McNeil memo said that Wilson desired "immediate steps be taken to place fiscal year 1954 funds in administrative reserve." The funds totaled $1,934,580,775.

Hamilton asked Wilson what "administrative reserve" meant.

Wilson said it meant that temporarily the funds "would be held in suspense."

Wilson went before the senators with a prepared statement in which he cautioned against insisting upon "excessive" U. S. Military strength.

Ike Prepares For Departure On Saturday

He Will Convalesce At Least Two Weeks At Gettysburg Farm

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower plans to check out of Walter Reed Army Hospital at about 8:30 a.m. tomorrow. He intends to convalesce for "at least two weeks" at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm.

Announcing this today, the White House said Eisenhower would be accompanied on the 85-mile drive to his country home by Mrs. Eisenhower, his personal physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, and "two house guests" for the weekend, Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Leonard D. Heaton.

Heaton, the Walter Reed commandant, operated on the President three weeks ago tomorrow for relief of a partial blockage of the small intestine.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said the Heaton will be celebrating their 30th wedding anniversary tomorrow.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower will observe their 40th anniversary at the family farm Sunday.

Hagerty announced Eisenhower's departure from the hospital is scheduled for about 8:30 a.m. tomorrow. But he advised newsmen they had better be on hand at least a half-hour earlier. The indication was that Eisenhower might get started for Gettysburg a bit earlier than now anticipated.

Preparing to check out, the President planned to step up his physical activity by going up and down a few stairs some time today. That would prepare him for descent of about a half-dozen stairs when he leaves the hospital to enter his limousine.

Hagerty said Eisenhower would come from his third-floor presidential suite to the main floor by elevator, but would walk down the few steps outdoors.

The plan still is for Eisenhower to go from the hospital to his farm home at Gettysburg, Pa., for further convalescence.

Asked about reports that Eisenhower might leave the hospital today rather than tomorrow, and that the departure would not be announced in advance, Hagerty smiled and told newsmen:

"You ought to know me better than that."

An 8:20 a.m. bulletin from the hospital on Eisenhower's condition said:

"The President had another good restful night. He slept almost continuously for nine hours."

"His temperature is 98.2, pulse 72, blood pressure 120 over 70 and respiration 18—all of which are normal."

"He has held his gain in weight."

"The President yesterday spent the major portion of the late afternoon and evening out of bed."

"His condition continues to progress satisfactorily. His spirits and morale are high."

Hagerty said the president was out of bed for about 4½ hours during the afternoon and evening yesterday.

Hagerty said so far as he knew today's stair climbing would be the first for the President since he underwent major abdominal surgery three weeks ago tomorrow.

Says Death May Be Penalty For Rape of Teenager

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Circuit Atty. Edward L. Dowd says the death penalty may be sought against youths accused of raping a 13-year-old schoolgirl in O'Fallon Park Tuesday night.

In warrants issued yesterday three youths were charged with rape and sodomy. A fourth was charged with rape and a fifth with attempted rape and sodomy. The cases of two other boys were taken under advisement.

"I am satisfied that inflicting the maximum punishment permitted by law is the only thing that will stop this wave of youthful violence and terrorism," Dowd said.

The prosecutor said he would urge juries to send "to the gas chambers those defendants against whom the evidence shows forcible rape."

The death penalty would be possible only in the case of a youth tried as an adult. Felony warrants were issued against two of the youths, Robert Jansen, 16, and Donald R. Wagner, 16. Jansen was charged with rape and sodomy and Wagner with attempted rape and sodomy.

It will be up to Judge David A. Murphy to decide how they will be tried.

Louis Fritz, 59, proprietor of a tavern where two of the youths said they bought 2½ cases of beer before the attack, was booked on suspicion of selling liquor to a minor. He said he didn't know the youths were under age.

Jury Acquittal Frees Richard Lee Harrell Of Murder Charge

WARRENSBURG, (AP)—Richard Lee Harrell, 19-year-old airman, yesterday was acquitted by a jury in the Johnson County Circuit court of charges of murdering a Kansas City used car dealer last November.

Harrell, a native of Danville, Ia., and stationed at the Grandview AFB, was charged with murdering William Allen Hill near Peculiar Nov. 23.

The youth's counsel emphasized self defense in the slaying. Harrell testified that he had argued with Hill over the payment of a car and that the car dealer struck him. In the struggle, he said, a pistol he had borrowed from a fellow serviceman at Grandview AFB was discharged.

Early Loads Are Heavy—

Appreciation Days' Buses Run on Hourly Schedule

The buses for Appreciation Days, Friday and Saturday, are running only every hour, alternating with the Pacific Shops bus and the 16th and Limit bus leaving town on the hour and the northeast and West 11th bus and the East 13th and North Grand bus leaving on the half-hour. The Sedalia Transit Line, Inc., is not quite ready to go into operation and had only two buses ready for Appreciation Days, but when the regular schedule starts on July 9 the buses will run every half hour.

There was real appreciation of the bus service Friday but a great deal of confusion with everybody wondering what time the buses would come and many not recognizing them when they did. That was because the buses had signs that read "School" on them. However, there were lots of people taking advantage of the free rides downtown, with one of the buses being completely filled on its first two stops bringing people to town. Everybody was happy to be able to ride the bus again and the young bus driver was beaming, answering questions and being very helpful as the second load of people stepped off his bus at 10 a.m. Here he found, even at this hour, a number of passengers ready to ride his bus back. A half-hour later another bus unloaded and a larger crowd waited to get on than got off. The fare is only ten cents going home. That will be the regular fare when the bus schedule starts. The buses will run until 9:30, tonight and 7 p.m. Saturday.

Cars were parked everywhere, too, at the sack-covered meters where they could park free and spend as much time as they pleased, taking advantage of the many bargains offered by the merchants. The crowd began to increase at about mid-morning, with more and more shoppers filling the streets and stores.

Church Group Adopts Racial Resolution

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—A resolution pledging its members to work for elimination of racial discrimination was passed unanimously today at the concluding session of the 43rd triennial convention of the Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod.

"Since Christians are constrained to do justice and love mercy," the resolution concludes, "we acknowledge our responsibility as a church to provide guidance for our members to work in the capacity of Christian citizens for the elimination of discrimination wherever it may exist, in community, city, state, nation and world."

The resolution also calls on synodical institutions, agencies and offices to continue to make no distinction based upon race or color in their entrance requirements and employment policies.

It directs all congregations to "regard all persons, regardless of race or ethnic origin, living within the limits of their respective parishes and not associated with another Christian church as individuals whom God would reach through the ministry of the local congregation."

Also on the program for further consideration is a resolution which affirms the church's policy of denying the vote to women in church meetings.

Last night the delegates adopted the resolution by a 4-1 margin. However, its supporters, apparently concerned about the number of votes against it, then moved reconsideration and returned it to committee for further study.

At the special evening session last night, delegates unanimously adopted a resolution deploring prenuptial contracts with Roman Catholics and urging congregations to wage "an intensified program of education against Lutheran-Roman Catholic marriages."

The prenuptial contracts referred to were described as agreements by non-Catholics who marry Catholics to "observe absolute silence on all matters of religion within the home."

The royal couple asked that a three-man commission be appointed to conduct the investigation.

Plans to Fight Inclusion Of Anti-segregation Rider

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Dawson (D-Ill.), one of three Negro Democrats in the House, said today he will fight inclusion of an anti-segregation amendment in the embattled $1,600,000 school construction bill.

As the House plunged into another day of debate over the big federal aid measure, House leaders said a final vote is unlikely before next Thursday. It will be Monday before preliminary voting starts.

Dawson said in an interview he will oppose a racial integration rider to be offered by Rep. Powell (D-N.Y.), his Negro colleague, because "federal aid to education is needed now."

Inclusion of the Powell amendment will kill the bill, Dawson said, and added:

"I hate to see an issue (segregation) as vital as this used as a cat's-paw to kill the bill."

Democratic leaders were reported to be cracking the party whip in a determined effort to keep Powell's amendment out of the bill. With it, they contend, the bill has no chance of escaping a death-dealing Southern filibuster in the Senate.

Powell was sticking with his plans to offer the amendment anyway.

He said the Senate "has the right to pass its own bill," and the House should not make dependence on the Senate its "rule of thumb" for legislation.

Rep. Barden (D-NC), chairman of the House Education Committee, had ready an amendment to strike out existing provisions that the U.S. commissioner of education must approve state school plans in advance of federal payments.

Barden told the House that the bill in its present form would allow the government to withhold funds from states which continue school segregation. His amendment, he contended, would blunt any move to penalize Southern states.

Cole Camp Bank Will Remodel, Expand Quarters

Modernization of the Citizens-Farmers Bank of Cole Camp will provide a more spacious lobby and improved working quarters, President C. P. Junge announces. The expansion program, to be completed in September, is by Western Bank Contractors, Inc., Kansas City.

A private consultation room, expanded safe deposit and vault facilities, and an enlarged lobby is planned for greater customer convenience.

A former rental area at the rear of the building will be incorporated into the new bank. The entrance will be moved to the side of the building and will feature new entry doors and aluminum and glass panels for clear vision into the customer lobby. The exterior will be repainted.

New acoustical ceilings, floor coverings, modern lighting and complete new fixtures are planned as part of a redecorating program. The bank is installing a complete air-conditioning and heating system.

Oil Barge Explodes, Spreads Fire on Pier; Two Severely Burned

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An oil barge blew up last night, hurling two crew men into the water and spreading a fierce fire along a pier.

Two fire boats and dozens of fire department pieces quickly controlled the dangerous blaze on the San Francisco waterfront at Mariposa Street.

"It blew up in three quick blasts," said John de Haan, 49, crewman on the Navy oiler Kern, anchored nearby.

He said the Tidewater Associated Oil Co. barge was unloading fuel oil.

"A man was blown off the barge by the blast, and I pulled him out of the water," he said. He was Alfred Johnson.

Stewart Ford, ambulance attendant, said Johnson was taken to San Francisco Hospital with first, second and third degree burns on the face.

Fred Witter, 50, also pulled from the water, was taken to the hospital with severe burns.

Fire Chief Frank Kelly estimated over-all damage at a million dollars.

Indiana GOP Holds Biennial State Meeting

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Future political prospects for Sen. William E. Jenner and Gov. George N. Craig were at stake today as Indiana's faction-torn Republicans assembled for their biennial state convention.

Craig is barred by the state constitution from succeeding himself as governor, and Jenner's term in the Senate has two more years to run. But both have a vital interest in the convention's selection of delegates to the national convention and candidates for statewide office and the U.S. Senate.

Sen. Homer E. Capehart, who has tried to sidestep the Craig-Jenner feud, has only token opposition in his bid for renomination to a third term. His sole opponent is George B. Huff, an Indianapolis public relations man who advocates abolition of foreign aid and farm subsidies.

The culminating episode in a bitter four-year struggle for power between Craig and Jenner will be the five-man race for the gubernatorial nomination.

Despite his control over the state organization, Craig has his back to the wall. Lt. Gov. Harold W. Handley, Jenner's choice for the spot, appeared to have the most delegates.

Craig's top choice for governor, Frank T. Millis, is expected to be second behind Handley on the first ballot.

If both Handley and Millis fail to win a majority of the 2,032 delegates by the third ballot, it is possible that a dark horse might receive the nomination. That would be a setback for Jenner, since the governor has endorsed all candidates except Handley.

Carpeting Comes As Own Decoration for the Home

Warm colors of a Mediterranean floor provided the inspiration for this mosaic in wool. Rug underlies the Italian provincial influence of room's furniture.

By Kay Sherwood
NEA Staff Writer

If you suspect the good old rug you bought when you were married has just about had it, wait until you get it ready for its annual summer cleaning. Oh, boy, what a shock!

With the comfortable shelter of carefully placed furniture removed, permanent spots you've forgotten about emerge from under the lamp table, a burned hole is uncovered under the master's chair, the worn path across the center contrasts dismally with the uncrushed nap under the sofa.

Professional cleaning may rejuvenate it, if the rug isn't too far gone. But should you vote for a replacement, you'll get a lot of encouragement from the carpet industry. To win your vote, a healthy trade-in value may be placed on the shabby old rug.

Or the salesman or dealer can advise you how the better parts can be salvaged to make a presentable covering for a smaller room. (Having an old rug trimmed down and re-seamed gave me a serviceable covering for the children's room.)

Further encouragement to replace is the shifting emphasis in styling and the upgrading of designs and color ranges in moderately priced rugs.

The recent decisions by many of the major carpet companies to introduce new lines annually instead of semiannually underscores the fact that rugs don't really go out of style very rapidly.

But there HAS been a gradual change. From an earlier emphasis on the floor covering as a plain, unobtrusive background, the trend now is toward more elaborate patterns and richer color combinations to make the rug more important looking in itself.

Designers tap other countries and other materials for their motifs. Brick, stone and tile are suggested in the warmly tinted patterns of some wool rugs. Fruit and flower forms bloom in profusion in carpets which range in pattern from modern colonial to contemporary copies of nature.

The glint of gold and silver thread steps up the elegance of tweed weaves. Thanks to new techniques, the modern powerloomed carpets reproduce with commendable accuracy the dense, luxurious pile and texture of hand-crafted rugs.

Range and richness of colors in new carpets seem to me to outdate an old rug as much as anything else. Without dipping into the custom-dye pot, you can find almost any shade you can name.

Beige, for example, is a popular carpet color. Today you can choose from all the gradations from pale sandalwood to coppery tones.

The choice a few years ago between a light or a dark green has been expanded to include greens with silvery overtones, and others that swing the palette from soft springtime shades to deeper, blued-toned shades.

Rodents Go To Work

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—An aquatic rodent with webbed hind feet has been put to work here clearing lakes of vegetation.

The rodent, known in its native South America as Coypu, weighs 20 to 25 pounds and resembles the muskrat although it is much larger. X. G. Hewitt, who imported a male and two females from Grape-land, Tex. by special permission of the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish commission, said 17 states have imported the rodents to rid lakes and ponds of vegetation.

Their food includes water moss, water hyacinth, sword grass, bull rushes and duckweed. Also, Hewitt reported, their meat is palatable.

Homebuilders Club Has Food Lesson, Program

The Homebuilders Extension Club, Windsor, met at the home of Mrs. Floyd Ketchum for the June meeting. The president, Mrs. Bill Yount, presided over the business session. The club collect was repeated in unison. Roll call was answered with "A Favorite Dish My Family Likes."

Mrs. Yount gave a report on the County Council meeting she had attended. A vote was taken on next years projects. The club voted to give $3.00 to the cancer fund. The president appointed a committee to make plans for achievement day.

Mrs. Robert Hand gave the food lesson on "Broiler Meals". She prepared and served cheese sandwiches and pears with mint jelly.

The hostess served refreshments to 11 members and four children. Four members received secret pal gifts.

Mrs. Frank Norcross will be the hostess to the July meeting.

Songs were led by Mrs. Ed Baumgartner. Roll call was answered with "Difficulties or Successes I Have Met With in Personal Improvements."

A lesson on family relations was given by Mrs. Dennis Garber. A health lesson was given by Mrs. Ivan Loganbill.

Mrs. Lutman received an anniversary gift from her secret pal. The next meeting will be an evening picnic at the home of Mrs. Ted Hitchcock.

Airmen Fail In Kidnaping Coast Realtor

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Two airmen wryly acknowledged today that their holdup attempt and the kidnaping of a broker in his pink convertible didn't go by the book. Admitting a constant reading of detective fiction, one said they decided to try robbing a rich family "to be a little more independent, a little more secure."

Charles Russell Rose, 58, the kidnap victim, persuaded airman Edward J. Curran, 26, to give himself up without hurting anyone, according to Police Inspector Charles Ipsen.

Airman Kenneth Riley, 19, who fled from Rose's palatial 20-room home after a policeman's gun was leveled on him—and left Curran to improvise alone—was captured without fuss 14 hours later.

Riley, of Menlo Park, Calif., came down out of the hills to pick up his police-watched car, parked just a block from Rose's home, where the airman's misadventures started at breakfast time yesterday.

Curran, of Saranac Lake, N.Y., and stationed with Riley at Parks Air Force Base, about 35 miles south of Berkeley, was charged with kidnaping, robbery and burglary. Riley was charged with robbery and burglary.

Ipsen's account of what happened: Curran and Riley invaded Rose's home, which they had picked as a rich prospect because of his pink convertible. They had Rose; Mrs. Rose; the Roses' daughter; two other women; and a neighbor bound with neckties on the living room floor.

But Helen Kung, 19, a Chinese student living with the family, had been sent by Mrs. Rose to a neighbor's to call police. Officer Robert Fry responded and aimed his pistol at Riley, at the front door.

Anti-Hanging Bill Scrapes Past Commons

LONDON (AP) — A government-opposed bill to abolish hanging in Britain has scraped through the House of Commons by a 19-vote margin. The measure faces a stiff delaying action in the House of Lords, where a majority favors the death penalty for murder.

The final vote in Commons last night was 152-133. Less than half the legislators voted in the "free conscience" decision. Prime Minister Eden's government had insisted that hanging should be retained. But it allowed Conservative members to vote according to their personal beliefs. Laborite members were also freed from party discipline.

Stormy debate which preceded the third and final reading of the bill introduced by Laborite Sydney Silverman ended in handshakes and cheers for the abolitionists.

Previously four crimes have been punishable by death in Britain—murder, treason, piracy with violence and setting fire to royal dockyards and arsenals. Now only one is. The House last month accepted an amendment retaining the death penalty for convicted murderers who kill again while in prison. The rider was aimed at protecting prison guards and convicts.

Despite overwhelming opposition in the House of Lords, the anti-hanging bill is certain of eventual enactment. The upper house can only delay its reaching the books.

Twning On Tour Of Atomic Power Plant

MOSCOW (AP) — Gen. Nathan B. Twining visited an atomic power station today which feeds Moscow with a minute part of its electrical supply.

The U.S. Air Force chief was taken on a tour of the 500-kilowatt station which has become a showplace since it began operating in June, 1954.

Another aerial visitor to Moscow, U.S. plane equipment maker William P. Lear, was summoned to the American Embassy last night for a talk with U.S. Minister Walter Walsley.

Lear declined to discuss what was said, but he remarked that he gathered that the embassy was concerned that the embassy was concerned about his flying visit here.

The wealthy manufacturer arrived in Moscow three days ago in his Cessna 310 plane, which is fitted with equipment that NATO bars for export to Soviet countries.

In Washington State Department officials said Lear would not have been granted an export license for his plane—with its special electronic equipment—had they known he would fly it to Russia.

Receive Subpoena To Appear Before Federal Grand Jury

ST. LOUIS (AP)—James H. Meredith, campaign manager for Sen. Stuart Symington in 1952, today received a subpoena to appear before a federal grand jury investigating expenditures of candidates in that campaign.

Meredith also said he had received a subpoena to produce financial and other records of the campaign committee that worked successfully for Symington's election.

He declined to comment on where he had these records. Meredith is the first witness the jury has called.

Members of the jury have campaign expenditure reports that were filed with the U. S. Senate after the 1952 election.

Symington, in 1952, defeated former Missouri Attorney General J. E. (Buck) Taylor for the Democratic nomination and then defeated Sen. James P. Kern (R) in the general election.

U. S. District Judge George H. Moore has instructed the grand jury to check carefully for possible violations of federal election laws.

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod yesterday established priorities for new buildings to be erected on college campuses, including one in Kansas and two in Missouri.

St. John's College, Winfield, Kas., physical education building, $250,000; St. Paul's College, Concordia, Mo., gymnasium alteration and addition, $275,700; Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, new heating plant and power equipment, $236,500.

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP)—Queen Juliana and Prince Bernhard asked the Dutch government today to investigate the circumstances which led to publication of stories in the foreign press concerning their "family life and relations."

The German weekly Der Spiegel at Hamburg, published a story earlier this month that 61-year-old faith healer Greet Hofmans had won influence over Juliana that extended to affairs of state and that the Queen and her husband were about to get a divorce. Government leaders and officials at the palace emphatically denied the report.

Will Inspect 10 Locations For Vet Lab

ST. LOUIS, (AP) — Sites under consideration for an 18-million-dollar government animal disease laboratory will be narrowed from 68 to 10 for an inspection trip last week by a committee named by the Department of Agriculture to select the site.

The 10 - member committee, swamped by statistics, brochures and arguments by delegations backing the various locations, today began the third day of a hearing on the matter. The hearing will end tomorrow.

Don Collins of Kit Carson, Colo., committee chairman and president of the American National Cattlemen's Assn., said the committee hoped to leave St. Louis Sunday for a personal inspection of the 10 sites deemed the most satisfactory.

With Collins keeping the hearing rigidly on schedule by limiting each delegation to a half hour, nearly half of the site supporters had appeared before the committee through yesterday. A large percentage of the delegations represented state universities and chambers of commerce.

The laboratory, replacing obsolete facilities at Washington, D. C., Auburn, Ala., and Denver, Colo., will provide for simultaneous research on 25 different animal diseases.

Delegations scheduled to appear before the committee today were backing proposed sites in Idaho, Oregon, Washington, Minnesota, Virginia, Michigan, New Mexico, Missouri, Louisiana, New York, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Illinois.

Former Sedalian Wins Honorary Presidency

The Tulsa, Oklahoma district of the Life Insurance Co. of Missouri claimed all honors in the company's annual President's Month Campaign. In addition to winning the President's Trophy, District Manager R. E. Hopkins, a former Sedalian, won the title of Honorary President of the company, and he and his wife will be the guests of the company for three days in St. Louis.

The district also had the leading agent for the entire company during the campaign. Hopkins started his career with the Life of Missouri as an agent in Sedalia in 1941 at which time the company had only two agents here. They now have a district office here. F. W. Tennyson, who was awarded the President's Trophy for being the most outstanding manager in 1955 is manager of the Sedalia District, with offices in the Kahn Building.

In 1949 Hopkins was promoted to staff manager and transferred to Hannibal, Missouri, where he placed third with the company in 1950. In May, 1951 he was transferred to Tulsa and assumed management of the Tulsa District.

The Hopkins are parents of a six-year old daughter, Karen. While in Sedalia they lived at 1202 South Lamine.

Seeks Guard To Hold Senate In

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration today sought to have the Senate cut the 4½-billion-dollar foreign aid authorization bill after winning every test in the opening day of voting.

Majority Leader Johnson (D-Tex.) announced the Senate would run again into a late night session if necessary to pass the big measure and send it into conference with the House. If work on it is not completed by tonight, he promised a Saturday session.

The Senate worked more than 11 hours yesterday on the measure tagged by President Eisenhower as of major importance to free world strength and security. It handed him important triumphs on these four votes:

1. A 58-27 defeat of an amendment by Sen. Long (D-La.) to cut the bill to $2,756,000,000 the sum Congress appropriated last year.

2. A 50-38 defeat of an amendment by Sen. Bridges (R-NH), chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, to cut off all aid to Yugoslavia.

3. A 45-43 defeat of an amendment by Sen. Young (R-ND) to clamp import quotas on textiles and farm products in surplus in this country.

4. A 52-36 defeat of an amendment by Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) to put a temporary import quota on textiles.

All of the roll calls cut across party lines. On the bitter dispute of the session, the Yugoslav amendment, more Democrats than Republicans supported the administration. The Bridges proposal was defeated by votes of 29 Democrats and 21 Republicans. It was supported by 23 Republicans and 15 Democrats.

Report In Form
JACKSON, N. C. (AP) — In a decade or so the Northampton County clerk of court will be needing a new supply of forms on which to issue capias ad testificandum.

Back in 1887, about 1,000 copies of the forms were printed. The clerk issued one in April of this year, leaving six on hand.

The form issued in April was the first one the clerk had needed in 10 years.

A capias ad testificandum is an order for a person to appear in court and testify.

British Judge Refuses Divorce to Man Who Found Wife in Nude

LONDON (AP) — A husband who came home unexpectedly one day and found his naked wife drinking tea with a naked man was denied a divorce yesterday.

The wife, comely, blonde Mrs. Mildred Clements, testified that she and the naked man, Peter Scott-Darling, both were nudists. She said they were just having a social afternoon and had not, as alleged by her husband, non-nudist Peter Clements, been misbehaving.

After due consideration Judge Samuel R. Edgdale accepted her story and refused to give Clements a decree on grounds of adultery. "People who are nudists," the judge said, "are really not quite the same as other people. One has to appreciate that their view of the conventions is different."

Nationalists Close Door on Peace Talks With Red Chinese

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Nationalist China slammed the door today on any peace talks with the Chinese Communists.

Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai's offer to negotiate the "peaceful liberation" of Formosa to the Communists was branded here as an "insulting gesture."

Chu Hsin-ming, acting director of the government information office, said Chou's offer yesterday via Peiping radio was "merely a variation of the theme" played by Soviet party boss Nikita Khrushchev.

"What needs liberating," Chu said, "is not Taiwan (Formosa), which is free and ruled by law, but the mainland under the bloody Communist reign behind the Iron Curtain."

"If the Chinese Communists, remembering that they are still Chinese, shake off the Russian con-rol, abandon communism, render their allegiance to the Republic of China and surrender themselves to the government, then peaceful unification of the country will be realized at once."

Home Reaches Building Climax In Wonderment

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The American dream of a house with a view has reached some kind of a climax with the construction near here of a house with a rotating second-story picture-window living room.

The 18-by-18 foot room driven by an electric motor gives its occupants a potential 360-degree view of the countryside.

Clark Ranney, 68, the builder, has dubbed it the "Sceneramic House." He says he has applied for patents and that other builders, particularly in Florida, have asked for rights to put up similar homes.

The house has a brick first floor containing three bedrooms, two baths and a kitchen.

The rotating upstairs frame living room is reached by a spiral staircase in the center of the house. It revolves on 24 wheels which ride a circular track and can make one revolution per minute at top speed.

The living room can be automatically timed to follow the sun across the sky or track the moon at night.

Ranney estimated the rotating living room would add about $1,500 to $2,000 to the over-all cost of constructing a house.

Control, abandon communism, render their allegiance to the Republic of China and surrender themselves to the government, then peaceful unification of the country will be realized at once."

Pleasant Weather Stays in North; Hot in Southland

Pleasant weather prevailed in most of the northeast and northwest sections of the nation today. Hot weather continued over most of the southland.

More cool air moved into areas from southeastern Wisconsin through Illinois eastward to the Atlantic Coast. Temperatures were from the 40s to the 60s this morning and were around 10 degrees lower than yesterday morning.

Southerly winds west of the cool belt brought a warming trend from the western Great Lakes region through the Mississippi Valley and the northern and central plains.

Readings of 100 degrees and higher were reported again yesterday in the Far Southwest and in sections of northern California, northern Nevada, eastern Montana and South Dakota. The day's top mark was 114 at Las Vegas, Nev.

Widely scattered showers and thunderstorms were reported from the Southern Plateau region eastward through the Southern Plains and the Gulf Coast area.

Tells NAACP Ambition Level Is Important

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — As new careers open to young people of the Negro race, their "level of aspiration" must rise to meet them, a workshop leader told delegates to the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People convention.

Dr. John Morrell of New York, guiding discussion in a youth and college section, yesterday heard a stream of young speakers complain that doors are closed to their ambitions and that they receive discouraging advice from their counselors.

Others reported they have found job training chances and that college preparatory courses are open to them in many areas. California schools in Oakland, Fresno and San Diego came in for special commendation.

One young delegate deplored a tendency of many young Negroes to gravitate toward shop courses holding out quick prospects for paying jobs. He said it was hard to interest them in careers which take more time and money to prepare for.

"Yes," said Dr. Morrell, "improving the level of aspiration is one of the most important things to work for."

"But unless we do that, all the work toward enlarging opportuni-

How About Those Bike Lights?

An event that takes place without one's foresight or expectation is defined as an accident.

No doubt the first story about a boy or girl on a bicycle being hit, injured or killed by an automobile will be referred to as an accident. Will it be?

There has been some response by parents and youths to an earlier suggestion that bicycles be equipped with headlights and tail lights or reflectors. But still there are too many not so equipped using Sedalia streets at night, especially after activities at Liberty park and other recreational areas, or returning home from shows at night.

Even though a bicycle may not be equipped with a headlight the least bicycle riders could do would be to clip a red reflector button on the back wheel fender. This requires no hard outlay of cash. Without such a warning to approaching motorists the bicycle rider is inviting disaster.

Maybe the problem of bicycle lights is not one for youth alone. Shouldn't parents show a little more interest in this matter or must they wait until Junior is taken to Bothwell hospital in an ambulance, or carted to the morgue.

Can they assuage their remorse by blaming themselves for being dilatory about this matter, or trying to cover up their own delinquency by condemning some motorist for careless driving?

Then, too, there will be criticism of the police for not enforcing the bicycle light ordinance.

Bicycles without lights have no more business on Sedalia streets at night than automobiles without front and rear illumination although some of the latter have been noticed spooking over the city streets without benefit of these safeguards.

Some moonless night if the police do start cracking down on these bicycle traffic violators there'll likely be a great clamor of protest from the parents.

So in the interest of municipal harmony we suggest a formal and official warning be published to forestall any over-emotional charges the police have begun a secret inquisition.

Let's get some action on bicycle lights. If this isn't done then a fatal collision may not rightfully be termed an accident but rather a child suicide or voluntary manslaughter on the part of the parents.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—

Stress, Strain Faced Ike When Stricken

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — More facts are gradually leaking out regarding the crucial days which preceded President Eisenhower's illness. They show the strain under which he worked, the vital decisions he faced in the pressing burden that is the presidency.

Shortly before the illness he had called in House of Representatives leaders to urge reinstatement of one billion dollars in foreign aid. The President did a magnificent, eloquent job, talking for 30 minutes in two 15-minute periods. "I am talking to you as a military man," he said.

In detail he explained how certain types of American bombers could make a certain number of missions over Moscow if they flew from European bases, as compared with far fewer trips if bigger bombers flew from the U.S.A. He wanted money for these overseas bases.

The President was sincere and effective. His listeners were impressed. But he became flushed with the exertion. His face, pale before he started talking, was crimson when he finished. It was a brilliant, impassioned plea, but not the kind to be made by a man with a heart condition or high blood pressure.

When he had finished, Speaker Rayburn said: "Mr. President, this meeting should have been held two weeks ago. The foreign aid bill is now out of committee. However, we will do our best."

Rayburn carried out his promise — only to be reversed. The reverse was a defeat for him, but, more important, it was a defeat for Ike himself, who had laid his reputation and his leadership on the line. The crushing vote against him occurred a few hours before the midnight he was taken ill.

The Wiley Decision

One day before his illness the President had been quizzed at a press conference regarding his failure to support GOP Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, a faithful Eisenhower supporter on foreign aid. Though Ike had appealed to Republican leaders for support on foreign aid, and though Wiley has consistently gone down the line for him despite political opposition back in Wisconsin, the President did not support him when anti-Ike, pro-McCarthy forces conspired against him for renomination.

When the President was queried about this in a press conference one day before he became ill he became flushed and noticeably unhappy. Wiley, he replied, had not wanted White House aid; he, Eisenhower, had not intervened in other Republican primaries.

A newspaperman asked why he had intervened in Oregon to help ex-Secretary of the Interior McKay. Ike replied he had not known other Republicans were running. This also was embarrassing. For newsmen knew that four Republicans had already entered the Oregon primary before Eisenhower wrote his letter endorsing McKay.

Suddenly at his press conference the President seemed to realize that his aides had given him poor advice.

All these problems seemed to converge at once. On other occasions Ike has had stomach upsets when he faced disagreeable decisions, as when he testified for the 1950 reduced military budget and faced bitter criticism of his own military comrades. Illness that followed forced him to spend over a month in Key West.

Cain Raises Cain

And on this crucial first week in June there occurred two other unpleasant crises. One was his statement sympathetic to neutral nations which so aroused the Philippines and Pakistan that the White House had to issue a statement next day correcting the President of the United States. This occurred just a few hours before that fateful midnight.

Also, just a few hours before, Ike had an unpleasant session with ex-Sen. Harry Cain, the bitter Republican critic of the Eisenhower loyalty program.

Senator Cain had scarcely set foot inside the President's office when the sparks began to fly. Cain got into a shouting match, not with Ike but with White House Counsel Gerald Morgan, who sat in on the interview.

Morgan accused Cain of shooting from the hip and attacking the President's loyalty program without talking to the White House first. Testily he charged that Cain was not a "team player" — a serious accusation in the Eisenhower vernacular.

Cain shot back that he had reported to the White House but had been rebuffed by the palace guard. He had tried to get information to Ike about abuses in the loyalty program, he snorted, but had been unable to crack through the ring of aides around the President.

This, replied Morgan in a high voice, was untrue. Cain fixed the White House counsel with a belligerent look and began to recite the details of exactly whom he had seen and what he had told them.

By this time the blood was noticeably rising up Ike's neck. He had been grim and unsmiling throughout the verbal duel. Now he broke in sharply and restored order.

Cain promptly began to recite the details of a security case in Seattle, a typical abuse of individual rights by the loyalty program. Ike was incredulous at first to learn that a man could be accused of a loyalty violation simply for being outspoken. When he was told that blabbermouths, drunks, sex deviates and other misfits were classified as loyalty cases, the President muttered: "I didn't know that."

General Eisenhower's own emotions are always on the side of the underdog, and the more he heard about the Seattle case the angrier he became. Ike made it clear that he considered the case a shocking violation of individual rights. With face flushed, he began pushing buttons. Secretaries began popping in.

The President gave terse orders about handling further communications from Cain, then asked the outspoken ex-Senator to submit a detailed memo on his criticisms of the loyalty program.

All these were part of the steady drumfire of problems faced by every President which seemed to converge on a man recently recovered from a heart attack and doing his best to carry on under the great load given him by his aides and the politicians.

No Cavalry—No Vets

Charles E. Wilson, Secretary of Defense, has now ordered army and air force veterinarians to find other military jobs or get out of uniform by July 1. Why not? The army has long since retired its cavalry chargers except for a few horses used for ceremonial occasions and funerals. Both the army and the air force use sentry dogs, but their trainers take care of them. This order by Secretary Wilson affects 2,600 officers and enlisted men including two brigadier generals, and will bring to an end this branch of the service.

Some of the veterinarians examined meat and other food products, but those services may be assigned to the Department of Agriculture. The order bars the services from commissioning or enlisting any more veterinarians and halts all special training and expenditures for such activities.

Tragic Signs of Our Times

The World Today—

Devil's Disciples Among Communists

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — The present Red leaders in Russia, in the satellites, and in non-Communist countries like the United States may have to step aside in favor of men less stained than themselves.

That's a possibility. It may not become a reality. But the present Communist leaders, inside and outside Russia, are launched on a new line of making communism attractive, forming united fronts, and acting peacefully and legally.

Yet all of them were exposed as the Devil's disciples — once Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev exposed Stalin as a devil — for all of them had been Stalin's completely obedient servants and his ardent supporters.

This linked all of them, directly or indirectly, with Stalin's monstrosities. And this makes all of them look a little less than persuasive when they express shock at Stalin's crimes or say they wouldn't tolerate a repetition.

Nor are the present Red leaders outside Russia credible when they say, as they do now, that each Communist party must have autonomy and operate as a national party.

It is public knowledge they didn't even think that one up for themselves. Khrushchev had to tell them that was the line to follow now. He said it last February in his speech denouncing Stalinism and the "cult of the individual."

Nor are these Red leaders outside Russia plausible when — taking their cue from Khrushchev — they do denounce the "cult of the individual." They had developed the same cult around themselves, ruling rigidly from the top.

So long as these Red leaders, in Russia and the satellites, and the non-Communist countries, remain in power they will be identified in the public mind everywhere with Stalin.

They have a past to live down. That's a burdensome handicap for communism when it claims to have broken with the past.

There can be no absolute answer to the question: Will any man, or group of men, who acting in motion events they perhaps could never again control. If what they did was done deliberately, perhaps they were prepared, if the reaction reflected on them, to step aside for the sake of communism.

It is also possible they just guessed wrong. If that was it, it may turn out to be one of the worst guesses in history.

Your Child's Health—

Development and Eating Cause Needless Worries

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

J. writes that she is 15 years old and for some time has been worrying about the development of her breasts, one of which has developed more fully and faster than the other. Fortunately, J.'s mind can be put at rest. The maturing of various parts of the body often proceeds in an irregular manner and considerable change is likely after the age of 15. In all probability the appearance of the breasts will equalize, or nearly so, within the next few years.

J.E.M. is worried about her great-granddaughter who is not yet quite two years old. Mrs. M. writes that the child is intelligent but weighs only 24 pounds. What worries the great-grandmother is that the child is so active running back and forth and jumping in bed.

This seems like a highly unnecessary worry. Most children when they first learn to walk and stand become quite excited about it and may overdo. One would expect this overactivity—if it really is but not of their lives or reputations.

In this country it is particularly embarrassing for the Communist party's "new look" to retain in leadership men who were not only jailed for conspiracy to teach forceful overthrow.

The big missing link in this whole story about the change in the Communist line and the disclosures about Stalin is why his heirs felt they had to go so far as they did.

Stalin, with the collaboration of the present Russian rulers, had built himself into such a position of towering infallibility that in Russia and among Reds everywhere that devotion was to him, not to the Communist party.

His heirs, insignificant nobodies compared with him, had to cut his memory down to human size in order to restore devotion to the party. But why they felt it necessary to destroy his memory altogether is not known.

They must have known they were opening gates which they might never be able to close, setting in motion events they perhaps could never again control. If what they did was done deliberately, perhaps they were prepared, if the reaction reflected on them, to step aside for the sake of communism.

It is also possible they just guessed wrong. If that was it, it may turn out to be one of the worst guesses in history.

No Early Relief From Rising Hospital Costs

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty
Of Our Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON—If hospital costs seem high today don't expect any early relief. In 1946, it cost general hospitals $9.39 a day for short term care of an average patient. By 1954 the cost had risen to $21.76. In the same period the Consumer Price Index increased only 37.6 per cent.

The worst is yet to come. As medical standards rise hospitals need more skilled personnel. People are living longer and the population is increasing. Higher wages are paid to all hospital help. Automation hasn't come to hospitals. Hospital authorities and doctors are looking around for new ways to meet the problem. Hospital-hotelers are proposed for convalescents and patients able to look after themselves. More home care is suggested for patients considered safely ambulatory.

Ruth Millett Says—

Bad News For Bachelors Is This Tip-off to Girls

Any young working woman who has dated a man steadily for a year and hasn't received even a hint about marriage is just wasting her time.

A 27-year-old woman who has given a 36-year-old bachelor a year of her time and doesn't feel any nearer to the altar than she did a year ago wants to know how long it ought to take a man to get around to proposing marriage.

Not any longer than this bachelor has already had. If the girl is really in love with him she may not want to break off their friendship.

But she certainly shouldn't let him take up all of her time. She ought to start dating other men. And furthermore, she should let him know there are others she is interested in and who are interested in her.

A bachelor who thinks he has a girl's undivided attention may not see any reason for bringing up the subject of marriage.

After all, he is getting a woman's companionship, her loyalty, her flattery and attention all the while he is holding on to his own freedom. In his mind, he is probably sitting pretty.

Why should he bother taking on the responsibilities of marriage when he is getting so much for so little?

But if he suddenly sees that he can't take up all of a girl's evenings indefinitely, he may start to think of marriage as a means of having her all to himself.

Lots of young men waste their most marriageable years on men who feel so sure of them that they don't ever get around to marriage talk.

It's a mighty foolish thing for any young woman to do. Her unspoken attitude ought to be:

"If you want to be the one and only man in my life, then you'd better start looking at wedding rings."

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Diefenbacher, D. D.

The oil lamp, the hand pump, the horse and buggy, and scores of yesterday's conveniences have been replaced by labor saving devices. We can scarcely remember the handcranked car or the crystal radio. The traveling dentist is only a character in an historical novel. The washboard and the hand wringer have gone the way of the 12-hour day and the six-day week.

Labor saving devices have made life easier. They have given us more time to do the things we want to do. Leisure time became a problem when children no longer had to do their share of morning and afternoon chores.

Juvenile delinquency grew. Golf widows came into being. Bridge mothers emerged from the pressure cooker kitchen with its instant coffee, precooked rice and quick frozen foods.

Invention has not stopped. In fact it is being accelerated every day. The work of living will grow even lighter. We shall have more leisure time, and more bids for our free hours.

It is time to give some serious thought to budgeting a reasonable portion of our time to enjoying the companionship of God. He made possible all of the advancement of science and the simplification of living. He created the human mind, and the things we use, as well as the time we squander so freely.

Ten minutes a day devoted to reading the Bible would make life more interesting. We should learn a great deal which even television does not teach.

Started Services in 1954— East Baptist Church Mission To Start Building Program

It is anticipated that in the very near future a building program will get under way at the Booneville Street Mission, a mission of the East Sedalia Baptist Church.

The work of the Mission began back in September of 1954 with the taking of a religious census. Shortly after that a store building was purchased at the corner of Booneville and New York by the East Sedalia Baptist Church. After considerable work and remodeling was done the first service was held on the second Sunday of October of the same year with an attendance of 63 in the Sunday School.

In November of that year Rev. H. W. Chaney who was at that time Superintendent of Missions of Harmony Baptist Association, preached the first revival with several additions to the membership. Rev. Chaney served as pastor of the Mission from the time it was started until January of 1955 when Rev. H. E. Hansen was called to be the pastor.

In the spring of 1955 the pastor, Rev. H. E. Hansen, preached the second revival in the history of the mission with several more being added to the membership. Then in November of the same year another revival was conducted with Rev. Kenneth W. Davidson, now pastor of the East Sedalia Baptist Church, preaching. At this time there were 29 more additions to the membership. It was in May of 1956 when the last revival was conducted with Rev. Jess Harmon of Fredricktown, doing the preaching. There were 11 more added to the membership at this time.

Today, the Sunday School enrollment numbers 207. One year ago the average Sunday School attendance for the month of June was 69 and this year showed an average of 110 for the months of March, April and May.

Last year the total of all offerings made through the mission ran approximately $3,330.00. The first six months of last year the average of all gifts was $245.71. For the same period this year it was $411.51. In addition to the Sunday School enrollment the Mission also has a fully organized Training Union with an enrollment of 69 and is now in the process of organizing a Brotherhood program with its men.

A building site consisting of three lots at the corner of Emmet and Walnut has already been given by one of the members of the Mission with the view in mind of building a new building to house the fast growing congregation.

On Wednesday evening June 6, 1956 in the regular business session of the East Sedalia Baptist Church it was voted that the church make every possible effort to get a building program started in the immediate future. With this in mind, Sunday, July 8th has been designated as the day for receiving a special offering and the taking of pledges to be paid in a period of 90 days. Great strides of progress

Rev. Rhoads Will Speak At Cumberland Church

The Rev. Robert Rhoads of Memphis, Tenn., will deliver the sermon Sunday at the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, 17th and Harrison, at both the 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. services.

The courses and instructors are: mission field, United States, Mrs. Roy Dillon of Oklahoma City; Southeast Asia, Mrs. Archie Ryan, a former missionary of Kansas City, Kan.; Youth in a Responsible Society, Mrs. Harold Soulen, Hutchinson, Kan.; Paul's Letters to Local Churches, the Rev. James Upton, professor of Conway, Ark.

Workshops on methods and techniques for program presentation will be taught by Mrs. E. H. Farmer, Mrs. Norton Brown, Joplin; Mrs. John Stovall, Marshall.

Workshops on the outreach of the woman's division around world will be presented by Mrs. Karl Wilson, Nevada, and Miss Mary Elizabeth Klinger, Springfield.

A fellowship in song and platform hour will be held on Tuesday evening at 7:30 and a fun night will be held Wednesday.

are anticipated for the mission in the future.

Sunday School Lesson Notes:

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

When Jesus gave the commission to His disciples to go and make disciples of all nations (Matthew 28:18-20), all that He had represented to a small Palestinian group as their longed-for Messiah, teacher and leader became enlarged into a world Savior. He became the founder, in a sense, of a new religion centered in Him, in His teaching and in the Gospel that He had declared — a Gospel set forth concretely in the parables of lost things in Luke 15.

In what sense the religion that He sent forth His followers to proclaim was actually new might well be debatable. Its seeds and roots were in Judaism, and Jesus Himself declared that He had not come to destroy, but to fulfill. The fact that Judaism has continued as a world religion, repudiating the suggestion that Christianity is in any real sense its fulfillment, has marked Christianity in itself as a religion apart.

Persecution and mistreatment of Jews by communities nominally Christian, but actually betrayers of Christian spirit and teaching, has historically emphasized the separation; but the Hebrew Scriptures have always had their inherent place in the Christian's Bible, and in recent years there has been much friendly association between Jews and Christians and a recognition of much that they have in common.

The appearance a short time ago on a television quiz program of a Presbyterian minister and a Jewish rabbi, who share a common place of worship in New York, was a striking example of a closer relationship between Jews and Christians.

Even more than the appearance together of the rabbi and the minister was the fact that the Presbyterian chose Judaism as his category, while the rabbi chose Christianity. Both successfully answered all the questions offered them, to the winning of $8,000 for their religious work, at which point they quit the program. I emphasize the incident, because its implications for closer relations of mutual understanding can hardly be over-stated.

I am rather proud of the fact that in a way I was a pioneer in this business of trying to establish better relations between Jews and Christians. Forty years ago, when I was minister of the First Congregational Church, in Hamilton, Ontario, I initiated friendly exchanges with Rabbi Joseph Minikin, scholar and author, who was then in that city. He spoke in my church. I spoke in his synagogue. And this was only a part of the association.

I felt highly complimented when a member of his congregation told a member of mine, "Mr. Gilroy is a Jew at heart." From his standpoint it was the nicest thing he could say about me, and it offsets some less complimentary brickbats that have come my way.

When one thinks of world Christianity the record is not all to the good, nor all that Jesus would acknowledge in the religion that He founded.

But there is another side to it in a continuous succession of Christian faith and life which is truly Christian. Of this I mean to write in a continuing article.

Lord's Supper Observance At First Baptist

The Lord's Supper will be observed at the First Baptist Church Sunday morning, and the pastor will bring a message on the subject "Why People Do Wrong." The choir will sing an anthem entitled, "God So Loved the World." There will also be special music at the evening service, and the subject of the pastor's message will be "Incentives of Right Living."

The activities of the week will be: Monday, 6:30 p. m., a swimming party for the Young People's Department of the Sunday School; and Tuesday, R. A. softball practice at 10 and practice for the church baseball team at 6 p. m.

Due to the fact that July 4th comes on Wednesday, the usual services on Wednesday evening, consisting of the officers and teachers meeting and worship at 8 o'clock, will be omitted.

A new type of meeting for officers and teachers of the Sunday School is being inaugurated for the benefit of the teachers for both the church and the chapel. These meetings will be known as "Think-Nics" and will consist of informal discussions on teaching methods. Film strips will be shown. The meeting will be held in open air on lawns of the homes of the members of the church. The first such meeting will be held on Monday, July 9, at 7:15.

Serving as assistant moderator of the church and speaking in behalf of the church members, Floyd McFarland welcomed the honorees and then presented Mrs. Davidson with a bouquet of red roses. After the couple was joined by their four children, Clyde Waters sang "Al-ways" to them, accompanied at the organ by Miss Doris Stott. The pronouns were changed to make the song more appropriate.

The program was closed with prayer by the Rev. Henry Hansen, pastor of Booneville Street Mission, and was followed by the reception held in the church basement. Girls dressed in formal served the cake and punch from a lace-covered table decorated with cut flowers and pink candelabra. Pink and white crepe paper decorated the rest of the room.

Beginning next Sunday, July 1, and continuing through July and August the services of worship at the First Methodist Church will be held at 8:15 a. m. instead of the regular hour. The church school will convene at the regular hour, 9:30 a. m.

Next Sunday, Donald Barnes will be the speaker. His subject will be "Fit for the Kingdom of God." Barnes is an honor student at Central Missouri State College and has won honors in debate.

Last year he was president of the Methodist Student Movement and was sent to the Christian Civic Seminar held in New York and Washington, D. C. Wayne Brown will preside. Mrs. A. H. Bratten will sing "The Voice in the Wilderness" by Scott.

Monday night the Commission on Finance will meet at 7:30 o'clock.

The Westminster Fellowship Group will meet Sunday night at Liberty Park at 6 o'clock. Each member is asked to bring a sack lunch. Drinks and dessert will be furnished. Shorts or slacks may be worn.

The Women's Association will meet on Thursday at 9:30 a. m. for a coffee hour and for its regular monthly program and business meeting. Mrs. Ralph Van Der Kamp will give the devotional. The program is on Foreign Missions and Mrs. Russell Maag will present tape and pictures from the Venezuelan Mission Field.

The Sacrament of Holy Communion will be celebrated next Sunday.

New Pastor Is Honored At Reception

The Rev. Kenneth Davidson, new pastor of the East Sedalia Baptist Church, and his family were honored with a reception held at the church last Friday evening, June 22. Davidson began his new pastorate June 3, coming here from the First Baptist Church in Drexel. The affair was attended by 225 persons representing other Baptist churches in Sedalia and Harmony Association.

The program in the auditorium of the church was opened with a song by the congregation followed by a prayer by the Rev. Morris Potter, pastor of Broadway Baptist Mission. Floyd McFarland, chairman of the Deacons, presided and introduced the Rev. T. W. Croxton, pastor of the First Baptist Church, who welcomed the new pastor and his family to the city of Sedalia and to the fellowship of Sedalia Baptists. An adult choir, under the direction of Miss Eugenia Arnold, then sang "Onward Christian Soldiers." The Rev. Charles Tucker, associational missionary, brought a welcoming message from Harmony Association which is composed of all Baptist churches in Pettis County. After the pastor and his wife were seated on the platform, McFarland introduced the church department heads who each gave a short talk on his or her department.

Irvin Parks, Sunday School superintendent, gave the Sunday School statistics and then crowned the couple as "King and Queen of Our Hearts." Little Kathy Parks and Clinton Franklin carried the gold crowns on white pillows.

The Brotherhood was represented by Joe Sands, president, who talked on relaxation and then presented Davidson with some bubble gum to chew on for relaxation. He also mentioned that the pastor might chew on the gum instead of chewing out his congregation. Humor prevailed throughout the program.

Miss Doris Mae Stott, Training Union director, gave a talk on that department and then presented the Davidson couple with a handkerchief to wipe away the tears from all the disappointments that will probably confront them.

The president of the Woman's Missionary Union, Mrs. L. R. Mills, after talking on missions, the sole purpose of the WMU, presented the minister with a silver dollar as a reminder of everyone's obligation to missions.

Serving as assistant moderator of the church and speaking in behalf of the church members, Floyd McFarland welcomed the honorees and then presented Mrs. Davidson with a bouquet of red roses. After the couple was joined by their four children, Clyde Waters sang "Al-ways" to them, accompanied at the organ by Miss Doris Stott. The pronouns were changed to make the song more appropriate.

Portrays Old Dance Master In New Movie

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A couple of fall guys were whooping it up on the old Paramount lot.

One was frozen-faced Buster Keaton, one of the great comics of the silent screen and knockabout artist par excellence. The other was young Donald O'Connor, himself noted for the fantastic falls he incorporates in his dance routines.

Donald is going to portray Buster in "The Buster Keaton Story," and he has been studying the old master, both from silent movies and in person. When I found them together on an empty movie set, they had been discussing and demonstrating some of their favorite stunts.

Buster commented that he had learned all his stunts in the family's vaudeville act — "the roughest act in this country or Europe." What's more, he still is able to perform some fabulous stunts though he is past 60 and only recently recovered from a critical illness.

"You've got to learn how to fall," he explained. "I never take the impact of a fall on the back of my head, the base of my spine, my elbows or my knees. That's how you break bones."

"Buster has taught me many of the falls," Donald added. "But there are a few I'm having trouble with. Like the teacup roll. That's where you do a backward somersault while holding a teacup in one hand not spilling it. I have to hold it in my left hand, and I'm not so good at it."

"We used to do a really rugged act in vaudeville, my family and I," Donald said. "In the opening number I came out and made a

Traffic Death Toll Continues to Climb

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's traffic death toll continued its climb last month with a record 3,170 traffic fatalities.

The National Safety Council said this brought the toll for the first five months of 1956 to 14,720—a 9 per cent increase over the corresponding period of last year — and a new record.

May was the 15th straight month that traffic deaths showed an increase in comparison to corresponding months of the previous year.

Actor's Condition Reported Satisfactory

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Character actor Eric Blore, 70, who suffered a stroke at his home June 13, is reported in satisfactory condition at the Motion Picture Country Hospital.

Man Serves Extra Days

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A book-keeping error kept a man in jail 13 days he wasn't supposed to serve, sheriff's deputies report.

Frank Joseph Arnold, 26, was brought before Municipal Judge Joseph A. Sprinkle Jr. yesterday. The judge could find no complaint against him.

Arnold said he thought he was there on a traffic warrant from nearby Altadena. But the judge pointed out he had already served his time on that count in the Pasadena city jail.

diver straight at the audience. My brother caught me by the coat and pulled me back.

Buster added the story of when he was supposed to leap from one building to another at the height of three stories. "I later realized if I had made it, I would have broken the world's broad jump record," he said. He managed to grasp the top of the building, slam against the side and drop into a net.

Donald countered with the time he did a straight backward fall after leading an orchestra in a Chicago theater. So he wouldn't break some new cymbals, he did it without putting his hands behind him to break the fall. The next day he discovered to his pain that he was separating the cartilage in his chest with every tumble.

PENCE PINCHER—Comedian Jack Benny would have you believe that he squeezes the penny—no matter what the currency he's received in exchange for American dollars. He's shown, above, arriving at his hotel in London via grocers' basket rather than cab. Benny's in Britain to film portions of forthcoming TV shows for statewide consumption—and the basket sequence will be featured in at least one of them.

Rita Hayworth Gets Nervous Before Cameras in New Movie

By HAL BOYLE

TOBAGO, B. W. I. (AP)—Can you imagine Rita Hayworth suffering from stage fright?

Well, you don't have to imagine it. It's true.

The sultry redhead, hitting the comeback trail after nearly a three-year absence from the screen, said she felt very nervous her first few days before the camera.

"I actually had stage fright for about a week—and this after making about 80 or 90 pictures," she said.

"It seemed like a new career, as if I were starting all over again."

Rita hasn't been exactly idle during her long layoff. During that period she shed crooner Dick Haymes, her fourth husband, after sticking by him during a government effort to deport him. She also engaged in a feud with her studio, Columbia Pictures, and lost a $75,000 breach of contract suit against it.

A $150,000 countersuit brought by the studio against her is in abeyance pending the completion of the two remaining pictures under her contract.

Miss Hayworth's comeback vehicle is a $2,500,000 earthy film called "Fire Down Below," co-starring Bob Mitchum and Jack Lemmon. Some of the scenes are being shot here on Tobago, an island off Trinidad.

Life on location, even for a glamorous actress, is mostly hard work and little play. Over a steak dinner on the veranda of the small hotel at which she is staying, Rita said:

"I've been out only two evenings in the last six weeks. About the only relaxation I've had is an occasional swim."

Rita, who has seen four marriages go on the rocks, indicated she was more interested in work right now than romance.

"I don't really know whether I'm an actress or not," she said. "But it's the only career I ever wanted. It's the only one I'm interested in now."

"I'd like to do a comedy for a change—something really crazy. I haven't thought much about television as yet. But something may come up."

About 9:30 Rita began yawning and left for bed, explaining she had a 4:30 a.m. call. She has been working a 12-hour day.

The next morning cameramen were shooting one take over and over again. Rita went through the routines without even a frown. She is highly popular with the

Launches New TV Program Of All Girls

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Ina Ray Hutton doesn't believe in mixing the sexes. From 1940 to 1950 she conducted an all-male band. Since 1950 she's been conducting an all-female band.

On July 4 she will launch a new regular weekly program on NBC-TV based on the firm promise that not a man ever will be seen on the program. Even the credit lines for the program's producing and technical staff will not list men's names. If, for example, there is someone named John Jones on the staff, he'll be listed as J. Jones.

Asked to explain this the other day, the blonde and pretty Miss Hutton said:

"An all-girl program pleases everybody. Women like it because they feel it gives their sex prominence. Men like it because—well, just because men always enjoy watching girls."

In the new program Miss Hutton will have guests — but will use them sparingly. Emphasis will be on music—"pure music," she says "popular and nostalgic. No pop."

Speaking of music Howard Barlow, musical director of The Voice of Firestone, was saying the other day:

"In the absence of modern day American Mozarts and Wagners, opera may be doomed in the United States unless good, intelligent English translations of foreign language operas are made available."

Barlow believes "it's unrealistic to use a language not understood by the audience and, in many cases, by the artists themselves."

The children of the last generation of opera lovers have a wider variety of American works to choose from, Barlow points out. "and they are not interested in sitting through a play which they do not understand."

The Voice of Firestone will try to make sure that all operas are sung in English in the future, Barlow says.

English film crew making the picture, because she is friendly and never gets temperamental. I chatted with her during a brief break.

Asked what she enjoyed most about acting, Rita said: "It's like painting. One gets completely absorbed in it. You can forget yourself."

Marie McDonald Sues For Second Divorce

SAN FERNANDO, Calif. (AP)—Actress Marie (The Body) McDonald, who divorced shoe manufacturer Harry Karl in 1954 and remarried him in 1955, has sued him again for divorce.

Miss McDonald, confined to bed by complications of pregnancy, alleged extreme cruelty in a brief complaint filed yesterday.

A week earlier a divorce and child custody suit brought by Karl in nearby Santa Monica was dismissed. A property agreement signed by the couple gives the actress custody of their two adopted children, plus support and alimony.

"Tavern operator," replied the taxpayer.

"Joint?" asked the agent, wanting to know whether the taxpayer was filing the return along with his wife.

"No, a first-class tavern," was the reply.

Lion Blocks Driveway

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—"There's a lion blocking my driveway and I can't get to work," Walter Ekola complained to police.

A policeman went to Ekola's house and found 25-year-old John Shimmers and his 9-month-old lion cub King waking from a sleep in the front seat of Shimmers' car. The car was parked in Ekola's driveway.

Shimmers explained he had lost his way to a Shrine circus. So, he said, he and King just bunked down to await daylight.

Shimmers said he and his lion "live no place special" since the Los Angeles Animal Regulation Commission recently asked him to keep the cub out of the city. The policeman led Shimmers and King to the circus grounds. Ekola went to work.

Award Calvin Utz $75,000 In Damages

After one hour and four minutes of deliberation a Cooper County jury Tuesday evening returned a verdict in favor of plaintiff Calvin Utz and awarded him $75,000 damages against defendants Lucy Ann Haymore and George P. Haynie.

Circuit clerk Elmer Jaeger of Cooper County stated the $75,000 judgment awarded yesterday is the largest judgment awarded by a jury in Cooper County Circuit Court since he assumed office in 1930 and it may be the largest ever awarded there.

The suit by Utz against Mrs. Haymore and Haynie asked $15,000 for his wife's death, which was the maximum allowed by Missouri state law at the time of the accident and $60,000 for injuries received by him.

Ten attorneys appeared in the four day trial heard by Judge Dimmitt Hoffman. Appearing for the plaintiff were Fred and Bob Wesner, of Wesner and Wesner, Sedalia, John J. Stegner and Roy D. Williams, both of Boonville. Representing defendant Haymore were Martin and Gibson, Sedalia, Robert Rase, Marshall, and Winters Martin, Boonville. Thomas E. Airman Found Not Guilty Of Slaying

Had Been Charged With Murder of KC Auto Dealer

WARRENSBURG, Mo., June 28 (AP)—Airman Richard Lee Harrell, 19, of Danville, Iowa, today was found innocent by a circuit court jury of a first degree murder charge in connection with the slaying last November of William Allen Hill, Kansas City motor car dealer.

The all-male circuit court jury deliberated one hour and 35 minutes before reaching the verdict.

Harrell, an airman 2C stationed at the Grandview (Mo.) Air Force Base at the time Hill's body was found in a field near Peculiar, Mo., Nov. 25, was not immediately available for comment.

Called For First Degree

The prosecution had asked for verdict of first degree murder. The defense claimed it was an accidental shooting.

Harrell's immediate family—father, mother and wife Peggy—were in the office of Gayles R. Pine, a defense attorney, across the street from courthouse when the jury returned its verdict.

The father, Everett E. Harrell, of Danville, said he was "overjoyed."

Pine said he had been told by Grandview Air Force Base officials that Harrell "would retain his military status" in event he was acquitted.

Transferred From Cass County

The trial was brought here from Cass county where the original charge was filed.

Harrell testified of a dispute with Hill over an auto purchase. The airman said Hill had struck him and that in the ensuing struggle a pistol Harrell had borrowed from a fellow serviceman at the GAFB discharged.

Fireworks Ban Will Be Strictly Enforced During Holiday Period

Fireworks will not be permitted in the city limits of Sedalia on the 4th of July, according to a recent city ordinance passed by the city council. Police Chief Edgar Neighbors states, "Violation of this city ordinance will be strictly enforced in the period before, during and after the 4th."

Chief Neighbors also stated that the ordinance was passed for the protection of persons living in the city of Sedalia and that their cooperation is asked during the holiday period.

"Last year," the chief said, "was a very cooperative year during the holiday, and I hope that the people of Sedalia can cooperate as well again this year."

Pleads Innocent To Manslaughter Charge

JEFFERSON CITY, June 28—(AP)—David L. Clark, 29, pleaded innocent in magistrate court today to a charge of manslaughter in the auto crash death of a 21-year-old girl last Sunday.

Magistrate Foster S. Wheatly set his bond at $7,500. Clark is in a hospital recovering from his injuries.

Miss Cora Salmons of Jefferson City was killed in the head-on crash. A coroner's inquest into her death has been set for tomorrow afternoon.

Find Five Miners Alive After Cave-in

Appreciation Days Friday And Saturday

Friday and Saturday — those are the days to go to town and shop. Free parking in the downtown area, free bus rides to town between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m., free swims with tickets given with purchases made at local store — that is, if you are under 16 years of age — and, although the merchants are giving away some merchandise free, they are also offering nice bargains that will be worth coming to town for.

Sedalia Appreciation Days are the merchants' way of thanking their customers for their business during the year and they make a special effort to offer attractive prices on things they have to sell.

Stacked high in a box at the Chamber of Commerce office are the paper sacks that Bob Cain, chairman of "Operation Sack the Meters," and his crew of helpers plan to start putting sacks on the parking meters at 7 a.m. Friday, so that shoppers may have a place to park free and shop. Store managers and employees are expected to cooperate and leave their cars outside the parking meter zones.

Harry Goldberg is giving them a chance to ride the buses downtown free those two days and they can get back home for a dime.

The swim tickets for children under 16 are good at either Liberty Park or Hubbard Park swimming pools. They are given with purchases at stores.

This is an annual event and is sponsored by the retail merchants division of the Chamber of Commerce. Harry Naugel is director of the division, Al Zuercher, Jr., is chairman, and Martin Goodrich is chairman of promotions.

Forests Are Set Ablaze

Rash of Fires In Two States; Ranger Killed

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., June 28—(AP)—Dry lightning laced the timberlands of Arizona and New Mexico with hundreds of fires today. A young forest ranger was killed battling one of the blazes.

No hope for rest was held out to 2,500 men who have been manning the fire lines for two days. Weather forecasts for the two states called for continuous dangerous fire weather, with turbulent winds and lightning from dozens of scattered thunderheads.

Blazes Number In Hundreds

Swamped forest officers in regional headquarters here gave up trying to keep track of the number of fires in the many national forests. But they numbered in the hundreds, both large and small.

Alan S. Wilson Jr., 28, of Rahway, N. J., a forest ranger stationed at Flagstaff, Ariz., died last night as he battled one of 21 fires in the Coconino National Forest of Arizona. He was crushed by a falling snag as he vainly tried to escape from beneath a blazing tree.

All the Coconino fires were controlled after Wilson's death.

Control also was gained, barring fresh winds, on Mt. Graham in Arizona after a blaze destroyed 6,000 acres and advanced to within three-fourths of a mile of summer homes.

Control was hoped for on another large fire near Safford, Ariz., where 1,000 acres had gone up in smoke.

2,000-Acre Area In Flame

The Forest Service took over the fight on a fire in private timber near the glacier-fed Latir Lakes in northern New Mexico where 2,000 isolated acres were in flame. National Guard units were being called in.

At least eight fires blazed in the Gila wilderness area straddling the Arizona-New Mexico line.

Three of the Gila blazes in the Clifton, Ariz., area were controlled today and ground crews were en route to others.

Marceline Fans Await Hometown Visit by Disney

MARCELINE, Mo., June 28—(AP) Walt Disney, the hometown boy who made good in Hollywood, is coming back here July 4.

He'll visit with his cronies of grade school days and he will see a municipal park dedicated in his honor. With him will be his wife and his brother, Roy, and his wife.

Mayor Jack C. Wrenn has proclaimed it "Walt Disney Day."

Disney is to make an appearance at a local theater in connection with the premiere of his latest film, "The Great Locomotive Chase"; he will attend a buffet luncheon at the home of Dr. Robert W. Smith where there will be many of the Disney brothers' classmates; and the dedication of the park and its $78,500 swimming pool. The park will be named the Walt Disney Municipal Park.

Attorney General John M. Dalton will deliver the dedication address; the 29-piece Ft. Leonard Wood band will provide the music and the program will close out with a fireworks display.

Disney and his brother will help with one function of the affair. They'll join five other men in judging a 40-entry bathing beauty contest.

The Disneys will arrive here Tuesday July 3 to attend a reception given by the Chamber of Commerce and the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Conferees Are Agreed On $34.6 Billion Bill For Cost of Defense

WASHINGTON, June 28—(AP)—Senate-House conferees agreed today on a compromise $34,656,727,000 defense appropriation providing about one billion dollars more for the Air Force than the administration said was necessary.

The money is to finance the armed forces in the fiscal year beginning next week.

The conferees said the bill carries $16,459,125,000 for the Air Force.

The House conferees agreed to accept an 800 million dollar increase the Senate had voted in funds for the purchase of aircraft—mainly for the buildup of the B52 bomber fleet—and 100 millions additional for Air Force research and development, the major items in controversy between the two houses.

First State Fair Catalogs Have Been Sent Out by Mail

The first mailing of the Missouri State Fair Premium Catalog was made at Sedalia recently. The 300 page book carries detailed description of classifications, premiums and trophies offered in the 27 departments, as well as complete list of judging dates and entertainments for each of the nine big days and nights.

The Fair will open Saturday, Aug. 18, and continue through Sunday, Aug. 26.

Copies of the catalog may be obtained by addressing a request to W. H. Ritzenthaler, Secretary, Missouri State Fair, P.O. Box 111, Sedalia, Missouri.

Total cash premiums, as listed by departments in the 1956 premium book, total $105,437.35. Of this amount, $91,967.75 is offered by the State Fair, and $13,519.60 comes from cash premium specials offered by breed associations and others.

Although the Harness Races and Running Horse Races ($18,200) and the Horse Show ($20,920) receive the largest amounts, the Beef Cattle department and the FFA and 4-H departments all receive over $10,000.

Although no new departments are listed in the catalog, two new breeds have been added in the Swine department; they are Tamworth and Landrace and a Shetland Pony Halter Division has been added in the horse show.

The only personnel changes shown, are new department heads in Music and Archeology. The new music superintendent is Mrs. Jewell Thomas of Sedalia and the superintendent of the archeology department is J. Mett Shippee of North Kansas City.

The 1956 Missouri State Fair will open with a parade through downtown Sedalia on Saturday, August 18, with formal opening exercises at the Fairgrounds following the parade. Several new entertainment attractions are offered. "Holiday on Ice," an ice skating extravaganza will appear five nights in front of the grandstand, starting Sunday, Aug. 19, and the annual Missouri Championship Race will run for the first time under the lights on Friday night, Aug. 24, with stars from Grand Ole Opry who appear Sunday, Aug. 26, and Motorcycle races on Monday afternoon, Aug. 20.

"In the next 13 years," he said, "we can now anticipate spending 1½ billion dollars in Missouri alone on roads and highways. Of course, the dollar today will not buy what it did in the past, but the new program would make a tremendous undertaking."

"We can anticipate possibly within the next five years," he added, "that U. S. 40 between Kansas City and St. Louis will be a divided 4-lane highway, two lanes in each direction. The same will be true of U. S. 71 between Kansas City and St. Joseph."

Polish Offices Stormed

Several Killed In Riot Against Cost of Living

BERLIN, June 28—(AP)—Workers in the Red Poland's big industrial city of Poznan stormed government buildings and Communist headquarters today in riots against living conditions. A number was killed.

Warsaw radio reported tonight the uprising had been put down by tanks and troops.

It said an undisclosed number of Poles had died in what the broadcast called "a well organized revolt."

Premier Joseph Cyrankiewicz and other government party leaders of Communist Poland hurried to the city, site of an international trade fair, Radio Warsaw said.

Mass Defiance of Reds

It was Poland's biggest mass defiance of the Communist regime since Stalin died.

It began as a general strike in the factories. Most shops were closed. Streets were barricaded, traffic was paralyzed, and street cars and autos were overturned. A jail was set afire.

It called the rioters "a street mob incited by the imperialists and the reactionary underground movement."

The Warsaw government said "the full severity of the Polish law will be brought to bear on the guilty ones."

It was the biggest anti-Communist demonstration in the Soviet world since the East German uprising of June 17, 1953, when 200,000 workers revolted. A Soviet tank division put down that uprising.

The Poznan trade fair this year began on the third anniversary of the East German revolt.

No Spread in Rioting

There were no indications that the uprising had spread to other Polish cities. How many died in the Poznan riot was not announced.

A West Berlin businessman back from the fair said Western visitors had stirred resentment with their good clothes and shiny cars, demonstrating a better life in the West.

As an example of how prices have soared in Poland, the German said a worker there had to pay a full month's wage for a pair of shoes.

This informant said the workers deliberately chose to stage their uprising at fair time in the hope Western visitors would carry reports of the strike to the Western world.

The Communist broadcast acknowledged there was serious unrest and charged "the enemy did not choose Poznan by accident for his provocations."

Reports Hanson Takes FHA Division Position

WASHINGTON, June 28—(AP)—Kermit H. Hanson of Des Moines was reported today to be in line to lead the Farmers Home Administration (FHA), succeeding Robert B. McLeanish, who resigned in the midst of a congressional investigation.

Although there has been no official word from the Agriculture department, one source said Secretary Benson already has given his approval to Hanson's appointment. There is no indication how soon President Eisenhower might nominate him for the post.

Hanson, 47, has been Iowa state director for the FHA since August, 1954.

Says Government Will Take No Strike Moves

WASHINGTON, June 28—(AP)—Secretary of Labor Mitchell said today no government action is planned to head off a steel strike threatened for tonight Saturday. Mitchell said the help of the Federal Mediation Service "is available if needed." However, the Mediation Service has not been asked to enter the stalemate steel talks in New York, nor has it indicated it will volunteer aid unless invited in.

The South Carolina counties staged a campaign for blood donations to the Red Cross. They pick one of the donors to have a week's vacation in Clearwater. The people of Clearwater provide a full program of entertainment with all expenses paid.

The Clearwater folks figure that in the course of the South Carolina blood campaign, a lot of people heard about the attractions of resort facilities in Florida. They are happy about the whole thing, but so far, the offer is limited to the two South Carolina counties.

The vacationist provides his own transportation to and from Florida.

John Wesley Hyatt, inventor of celluloid, also invented the flexible roller bearing.

Odds and Ends
By News Staff

IF A COUPLE of boys learned nothing else at college the past year they did learn how to—or maybe not to, wash clothes. The lesson, however, was pretty expensive.

One of them didn't know how to operate the machine and tore up several shirts, socks and some of his underwear. The result was he had to buy almost a whole new wardrobe, because everything he had nearly, was in shreds. He was certain he was going to get his clothes clean, though, so he put in a half a box of soap flakes.

The other boy wanted his shirts white so he put in a half bottle of bleach and came out with yellow shirts that were so rotten you could punch your finger through them.

It does look like the first thing colleges would teach is how to wash clothes. That, for the college boy, is a very important subject.—H.L.

The bride is a graduate of Smith-Cotton High School, class of 1955, and is employed at Central Missouri Supply Company. The bridegroom is a graduate of Smith-Cotton High School, class of 1955, and attended Central College at Fayette.

After a trip to the Ozarks, the couple is now at home at 316 West Broadway.

Seven students chose to train part of their final year under rural doctors.

Graduation of young physicians to serve rural Missouri is a big objective of the school's expansion, Dr. Roscoe Pullen, dean, pointed out. He said the decision of a third of the class to train for that goal, is encouraging.

Six preceptors are: Dr. Arch Spelman, Smithville; Dr. Kenneth Glover, Mount Vernon; Dr. Peter Siegel, Smithton; Dr. Doyle McGraw, Bolivar; Dr. J. H. Trolinger, Jackson, and Dr. Weyth Hamlin, Palmyra.

Each preceptor will be teacher to one of the seniors for five and a half weeks. The student will live with the preceptor, follow him on his office, hospital and home calls and observe how the veteran practitioner meets the people and treats patients. The student serves without pay.

The seniors who have elected to take this general practice training are: Joseph Hecker and Richard Turney, both of Independence; Jefferson Davis, Neosho; Howard Adams, Chillicothe; Thomas Fischer, Canton; Loy Barnes, Louisiana, and William Dennis, Esther.

Adams already has been assigned to Dr. Siegel at Smithton, Davis to Dr. Glover at Mount Vernon and Fischer to Dr. Trolinger at Jackson.

Two other fourth-year students will serve clinical clerkships in psychiatry under Dr. Louis Kohler, superintendent of the Missouri State hospital at St. Louis. They are Hecker and Robert Philip Acuff of Columbia.

Other fourth-year students who have begun clinical studies include Charles T. Riley, Jr., Sleepers; Roland R. Springgate, New Haven; John E. Oakley, St. Louis; and Henry A. Totzke, Columbia, in medicine; William P. Dennis, Esther, Dennis C. Drake, Columbia, Robert W. Buben, St. Louis, Walter F. Gillespie, Kansas City, and Kitcher H. Huber, Moberly, in surgery; James E. Sticker, Kirksville, and Edward L. Ritter, St. Louis, on obstetrics; and James S. Gordon, Windsor, Glenon A. Horner, Cassville, and Albert L. Howe, Brentwood, in pediatrics.

The small fourth-year class of 21 will increase in future years as the medical school, which moves into its new $13,500,000 medical center with a 441-bed teaching hospital in September, will step up enrollment next fall to permit an entering class of 75 students. A limit of 50 has been enforced for several years.

The fourth year for the 21 seniors began June 11 and will end June 3 next year.

The 21 are the first fourth-year class in medicine since 1909 at MU, which cut its medical teaching to two years because of lack of state appropriations. Until the recent re-establishment of a full-time course, medical students had to complete their studies at other schools.

'Poor' King Gives Away $4,000 Check

FLORENCE, Italy (AP)—Ex-King Farouk of Egypt, who complains that he's a poor man now, has made good on a $4,000 promise to a television quiz contestant.

Farouk's secretary and a Rome attorney, Giulio d'Amelio, arrived at the home of shapely young Marisa Zocchi near Florence and handed her a certified check for 2½ million lire ($4,000).

Marisa won the same amount recently on the program Lascia o Raddoppia (Double or Nothing) by answering questions on bicycle racing. She announced tearfully on the program that she would stop at that point rather than try for the $8,000 jackpot in order to be sure of some prize money to help her ailing mother.

First Private Atomic Reactor for Industry Goes Into Operation

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's first private nuclear reactor for industrial research went into operation today.

The event gave American industry the first green light to conduct reactor studies without government security restrictions.

The 50,000-watt reactor is at the Armour Research Foundation of Illinois Institute of Technology on Chicago's near South Side. It is the first to be constructed in a highly populated area since the world's first reactor was operated under wartime secrecy at Stagg Field at the University of Chicago.

The reactor, a "solution type," uses as fuel enriched uranium dissolved in about four gallons of water. It was built by Atomic International, a division of North American Aviation, Inc., Canoga Park, Calif. The Atomic Energy Commission supplied the uranium on an "extended loan" basis as required by law.

Dr. Richard F. Humphreys, director of the reactor program, said its most probable frequent use will be the production of radioisotopes which will be used in the study of chemicals and various materials.

Poynter graduated from high school in East St. Louis, attended Washington University and spent two years in the United States Navy.

He served in the Navy aboard the aircraft carrier USS USS Manila Bay, serving in the South Pacific most of the time as a gunner's mate.

Poynter has a wife, Virginia, and three children, Karen, 4, Vicki, 3, and Scott, two months. They reside at 1100 South Church. They are Methodist by religion and he is connected with the Masonic Lodge.

The slogan at Sedalia "Where Folks Enjoy Life," has a meaning for the Poynters. In their traveling through here to the Lake of the Ozarks they passed through Sedalia many times. They decided that this truly must be a place where "Folks Enjoy Life" and that they would like to live in this city. They have lived in many states and towns but Sedalia, Missouri, according to Poynter, is a clean, beautiful town, one in which they chose to live.

Wilson Is Puzzled Over Resignation Query by Reporters

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson returned last night from a short vacation in Canada and, professing puzzlement that such a question was asked, said he has no intention of resigning.

The aimed, obviously referring to the fire aimed at him in recent days by Senate critics, he told newsmen:

"The price of progress is trouble and I must be making a lot of progress."

The last time he used this phrase, when a round of Army-Air Force bickering broke out last month, he said the trouble he then noted was "too much."

Some Senate Democrats called for Wilson's resignation after he used the word "phony" last week in discussing with newsmen senatorial moves to increase the Air Force budget. Saying later that he was misunderstood, Wilson asserted he didn't mean to apply the word to senators.

As he stepped from a plane last night, waiting reporters asked Wilson if he intended to resign.

"I don't know why you bring up the question?" he replied. "No, of course not. Why would I?"

US Officials Pledge Action On GI Troops

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP)—America's top representatives in Germany have promised speedy action to reduce friction between U.S. servicemen and German residents.

West German officials have charged that troublemaking by Allied troops has increased rapidly this year. Allied officials denied such an increase, but said steps are being taken to assure proper conduct by troops stationed in Germany.

Gen. H. I. Hodges, U.S. Army commander in chief in Europe, "prompt and effective corrective action" is being taken wherever necessary.

"Commanders thoroughly understand that misbehavior on the part of troops and particularly criminal acts are not tolerated in the American Army," Hodges said, "abhorrent to Americans as it is to our German neighbors."

"The Army is not a haven for bad actors or criminals, nor does it afford these offenders the protection of anonymity. Commanders are pursuing vigorously their investigations into these situations and are taking prompt remedial action."

Hodges' statement was forwarded to West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano by U.S. Ambassador James B. Conant.

In an accompanying letter, Conant said he was confident military authorities "are taking every appropriate measure to ensure that good relations continue now and in the future."

Wilhelm Hoegner, president of Bavaria, alleged recently that incidents of violence, particularly rape, involving U.S. troops in the first half of 1956 have already equaled the total for last year.

Other German officials have charged there have been increases in robberies and assaults.

Hodges said "statistics do not sustain charges that these alleged crimes and misdemeanors have increased" but "it is not our intention to stand on statistics."

Dry, Pleasant Weather Prevails Over Most of US

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There were a few wet spots but generally dry and pleasant weather prevailed in most of the nation today.

Precipitation early this morning was confined to three general areas. Light showers fell in sections of the Great Lakes region; showers and thunderstorms hit parts of Florida and in a belt from Colorado and New Mexico eastward to Missouri and Arkansas.

Stormy weather was reported yesterday in eastern Kansas and western Missouri. Wind gusts were recorded at 115 m.p.h. at Kansas City, Kan., and at 80 m.p.h. at Topeka, Kan. One man was killed and several other persons injured in the wind and rain storm which struck Kansas City.

Mo. Storm damage, mostly from falling trees, was reported the worst in 10 years.

Cooler and drier air extended from the Dakotas southward through Oklahoma and Louisiana and eastward to the Atlantic Coast. Biggest cooling was in the upper Great Lakes region, with early morning temperatures about 10 degrees lower than 24 hours earlier.

French Launch Battle To Save Military Bases in Tunisia

PARIS (AP)—France has launched a diplomatic battle to save her military bases in newly independent Tunisia in the face of stiff opposition from the government of Tunisian Premier Habib Bourguiba.

Bourguiba is here to negotiate a treaty covering relations between France and her former North African protectorate. He told reporters, "We admit that for the moment Tunisian forces cannot alone assume defense of Tunisia, so French troops can fill this role during the transition period."

"But," he added, "we will never admit that the presence of French forces in our country—and particularly at the big Mediterranean port of Bizerte—can take on a permanent character under pretext of needs of Western strategy or defense of the free world."

This was an obvious reply to French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau's statement to the French Senate this week that "there is no question of envisaging the departure of the French army from Morocco and Tunisia."

Focuses Bid On Possible Adlai Split

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—New York's Gov. Averell Harriman appears to be focusing his bid for the Democratic presidential nomination on the hope that Adlai E. Stevenson's supporters will break apart on the civil rights issue.

Harriman made little political progress on the surface at the 48th annual Governors' Conference which ended here yesterday. But he pounded away on his theme that the party must take a strong stand on civil rights.

The New York governor's strategists professed to believe that if that issue is pushed to the forefront at the Chicago convention, so much pressure will be put on Stevenson he will be forced into a stand alienating either Northern or Southern support.

If a wedge can be driven into the Stevenson ranks, Harriman's backers seem to be willing to risk a convention walkout and face the prospect of Democratic loss of some Southern states in November.

Harriman has said repeatedly the Democrats can't win unless they carry New York and what he calls "like-minded" states.

While his and Stevenson's public statements on the Supreme Court's order for racial integration in the schools have not been far apart, there is evidence that Harriman is prepared to go much further than Stevenson now is in the direction of a declaration for enforcement of that order.

As a possible evidence of how seriously some Southerners regard the consequences—for them—of a strong platform delegation, nine Dixie governors agreed at a huddle to cooperate in efforts to prevent adoption of any plank of this kind.

Wife Admits She Killed Her Husband

WICHITA, Kan., June 28—(AP)—Mrs. Iva A. Jones' macabre secret—that she killed her husband and buried him in quicklime in the garden nearly 13 weeks ago—was revealed by her attorney today.

Shortly after A. D. Weiskirch, the 32-year-old widow's chief counsel, said she had admitted the slaying Mrs. Jones was charged with first degree murder.

Weiskirch said "We will urge self-defense."

He said Jones was shot in an argument, April 7. He said his client told him she shot her 48-year-old brick mason husband when he attacked her with a "foot-long knife."

Jones' body, partly decomposed and lying in quicklime, was found in a shallow grave in the back yard of the couple's southside home, Wednesday.

Held in city jail after her arrest at midday Wednesday, Mrs. Jones pleaded innocent this morning in police court to a technical charge of vagrancy and investigation.
